14 Killed in Convalescent Home Blaze

Many Trapped in Beds by Flash Fire in Iowa

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP) — Authorities sought today to identify two of 14 persons killed when flames flashed through a 75-year-old frame convalescent home, trapping many of the victims in their beds.

Ten persons were injured in the blaze Wednesday afternoon, but only one was reported in critical condition. Eight others were hospitalized.

There were 48 persons in the building when the fire broke out. The nursing home housed 32 patients. Most of those who fled uninjured were employes. Three children of an employe also escaped injury.

Two Victims Unidentified

The search for more victims was called off early today when one of the missing patients was found wandering about in a daze some 13 hours later.

The woman, Annie Orme, about 70, had been listed among the victims. She was found by Council Bluffs police trying to enter a home near the nursing home. Mrs. Orme told authorities she had spent most of the time in a nearby woodland. She suffered exposure and shock.

The bodies of two victims were still unidentified. Officials believed the unidentified bodies were those of Mrs. Mathilda Luchow and Mrs. Rose Cochran, both patients.

Authorities theorized the fire was touched off by an elderly woman patient when her cigaret touched a plastic window curtain.

The fire quickly swept the nursing home, whose patients ranged in age from the 60s into the 90s. The top two floors of the three-story structure crashed into the basement.

As a result of the fire, Gov. Herschel C. Loveless called today for an investigation of all nursing homes in the state to see if they are obeying fire and health regulations.

UN Committee Rejects Russian Demand for Debate on U.S. Policy

Soviet Action Denounced by Envoy Lodge

Says Demand is Deliberately Timed Attack on Ike's Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The General Assembly's Steering Committee voted today to reject a Russian demand for full debate on a charge that U. S. policy is heading for atomic war.

The vote was 8-6 with 1 abstention.

The committee first announced the vote as 7-6 but later announced an official correction.

The breakdown was: Against 8—Turkey, Italy, Dominican Republic, Peru, China, France El Salvador, Denmark. For 6 — United States, United Kingdom, Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, India, Egypt. Abstentions 1 — Pakistan. Not voting 1—Thailand.

The United States had announced it would welcome debate on the Soviet charge, although U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. called it a "gigantic cock and bull story."

"We believe every country has the right to make a fool of itself if it wants to," Lodge said.

He predicted that the Russians would be unable to back up a single one of their charges against the United States, and that open debate will "expose their crudities for what they are."

Lodge denounced the Soviet demand for U. N. consideration of alleged U. S. "acts of aggression" as a "thinly veiled and deliberately timed attack on President Eisenhower's Middle East policy. It aims at preventing the effectuation of that policy. The Soviet representative has let the cat out of the bag. We accept the challenge. Let the debate take place."

Lodge rejected vigorously the Soviet claims that U. S. foreign bases are a step toward atomic war and called the U. N. to witness that "the peoples of the free world are free to cry out in protest here in the United Nations if they object to United States bases."

Furthermore, he said, no American troops anywhere have ever slaughtered civilians, he said, while the Soviet Union's own troops in foreign bases "killed 25,000 Hungarian civilians in the process of re-enslaving the Hungarian people."

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov presented the new item, "question of aggressive acts by the United States of America constituting a threat to peace and security," as one demanding immediate debate in the General Assembly itself.

In the 16-member committee, only Czechoslovakia supported the Soviet Union, advancing arguments that duplicated the Kuznetsov speech.

The assembly originally had hoped to adjourn by Feb. 15 but the Hungarian and Middle East situations threw the schedule off balance. The assembly has at least another week of routine work.

State Will Not Extend Feb. 15 Auto License Deadline

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — The Feb. 15 deadline for obtaining new auto license plates will not be extended, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier announced Wednesday.

Persons driving with 1956 plates after the deadline will be subject to arrest.

Motor vehicle registrations have reached about 2,500,000 but several hundred thousand vehicles remain to be registered, Carpentier said.

A BARGAIN—A painting purchased for one dollar in a Chicago curio shop turned out to be an original oil by Winslow Homer worth $10,000. Miss Carolyn Alson, who purchased the masterpiece, proudly shows the painting, which depicts four boys eating watermelon. She discovered its worth when she took it to a gallery for cleaning. Ironically Miss Alson bought the painting in a shop owned by her sister. Neither had any idea of its value. (NEA Telephoto)

Treasury Asks Permit to Boost Gov't Bond Rates

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Department asked Congress today to let it increase the interest rate on government savings bonds from 3 to 3 1-4 per cent.

The department submitted to the House and Senate a bill that would give it flexible authority to increase the interest rate on 'E' and 'H' bonds to as high as 4 1-4 per cent, if necessary. But officials said the department planned only a 1-4 of 1 per cent increase.

The new rates would be retroactive to Feb. 1. Treasury officials said they hope Congress will pass the legislation promptly. Several important members of Congress already have said they approve such a plan.

Treasury officials said the move was necessary because of lagging sales of 'E' and 'H' bonds and constantly rising redemptions.

Many commercial banks have raised interest rates on savings accounts to 3 per cent as the result of a recent government action permitting them to do so. Many savings and loan associations now are paying 3 1-2 per cent dividends on money deposited with them. Some are paying 4 per cent.

Bond sales last year fell $600 million short of the Treasury's goal of more than $5.6 billion. The 1957 goal was pared down to $5 billion.

During January cash-ins soared to their highest monthly level in nearly 11 years—$547 million. At the same time, new sales totaled only $465 million.

The Treasury also announced that the maturity length of the popular 'E' bonds will be shortened from the present 9 years and 8 months to 8 years and 11 months.

It also said the redemption value of the new bond will be increased in the early years to provide a substantially higher yield and permit competition with other short term investments. For example, the return on the new bond would be 3 per cent after three years instead of the present 2 1-4 per cent.

Commission Studies $158 Million Budget for State Welfare Dep't

Probably Will Force Increase in State Sales Tax

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — The Illinois Budgetary Commission today pondered a proposed budget of almost 158 million dollars for the operation of the state's mental hospitals and other welfare institutions for the next two years.

The proposed outlay, termed "vital" for improvement of standards for the care of growing numbers of Illinois citizens suffering from mental diseases, may well be the budget item which will force an increase in the state sales tax.

Dr. Otto L. Bettag, Welfare Department director, outlined the proposed budget for the two years ending June 30, 1959 before the commission Wednesday.

The proposal is about 41 million dollars higher than the department's operating budget for 1955-57. Bettag also outlined a proposed capital improvements budget totaling about 295 million dollars.

Sen. Everett R. Peters, the St. Joseph Republican who heads the commission, said the need for improvement of the state's mental institutions and other welfare service was obvious.

"But where are we going to get the money?" he asked.

Peters said the proposed spending for capital improvements would have to be reduced to units which could not be postponed, and the remainder held up until Gov. William G. Stratton's proposed 236 million dollar bond issue for state institutions can be used.

Powell Sees Tax Increase

The commission reception to the huge operating budget proposal indicated that most of the requested operating funds would be recommended for appropriation.

Rep. Paul Powell, who also asked "where is the money coming from?" indicated there could be but one answer: A tax increase.

"There is no doubt that you need every dime you are asking for," the Vienna Democrat told Bettag.

"I don't feel that the people of Illinois are against any kind of taxes if they know the money is to be spent for such good purposes as this," he said.

But the Legislature can provide the funds only if everyone in the state interested in adequate welfare facilities will "get out and work for it," Powell said.

The Budgetary Commission hearing came only a few hours after

Walter W. Davis, 84, Retired Big Ridge Farmer, Dies

Walter W. Davis, 84, retired farmer, died at 7:15 p. m. yesterday at his home in the Big Ridge community.

He was born in Cottage Township April 6, 1872, the son of Tom and Mary Martin Davis, and had lived all his life in that community. Mr. Davis had been in poor health for the past two and a half years and suffered a stroke last Friday which resulted in his death.

Surviving him are his wife, Ollie; three children, Mrs. Ben Wintizer of Big Ridge, Mrs. John Sherrod, Pontiac, Mich., and Wendell T. Davis of Akron, O.; five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren; two brothers, J. Wilburn Davis of Harrisburg, and Harley Davis of Eldorado, and a sister, Mrs. Charley Berry of Detroit, Mich.

The body lies in state in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home. Services will be held in the Big Ridge Baptist church, of which he was a member for many years, Friday at 2 p. m. Rev. George Bain, Carbondale, pastor of the church will officiate and burial will be in Big Ridge cemetery.

Authorize Ferne Clyffe Lake Survey

GOREVILLE, Ill. (AP)—The feasibility of constructing a lake of some 80 acres at Ferne Clyffe State Park near here is under study.

A local committee says Gov. Stratton has authorized expenditure of $2,000 for an engineering survey.

The committee says the governor also authorized Conservation Director Glen Palmer to include $60,000 in the department's budget for land acquisition, if the engineering tests on rock and land formation are favorable.

Dr. Clark Yost Lists Greatest U. S. Anniversaries

SINCE FEBRUARY is the month of two of our great American birthday anniversaries — which celebrate the anniversaries of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington — Timotheus was indeed pleased to receive the opinion of a learned man on Great Anniversaries.

The material I received was from Dr. Clark R. Yost, a man of intellect and humility, a man I've admired for a long time.

Right now Dr. Yost, a former president of McKendree College, resides at Eldorado and pastors the Raleigh Methodist church and does a lot of reading.

He writes, too, and maybe you've read some of his opinion in the Mail Bag of The St. Louis Globe-Democrat. He used to sign his articles "Alexander Hamilton," but later used his own name.

* * *

ANYHOW, Dr. Yost has listed for me what he considers the 14 Great American Anniversaries. The name of the American, the date of birth and the anniversary we observe in 1957 are given, as follows:

George Washington, Feb. 22, 1732, the 225th.

Abraham Lincoln, Feb. 12, 1809, the 148th.

Alexander Hamilton, Jan. 11, 1757, the 200th.

Benjamin Franklin, Jan. 17, 1706, the 251st.

James Madison, March 16, 1751, the 206th.

Thomas Jefferson, April 2, 1743, the 214th.

Andrew Jackson, March 15, 1767, the 190th.

James Monroe, April 28, 1758, the 199th.

Daniel Webster, Jan. 18, 1782, the 175th.

Robert E. Lee, Jan. 19, 1807, the 150th.

Woodrow Wilson, Dec. 28, 1856, the 101st.

Theodore Roosevelt, Oct. 27, 1858, the 99th.

William Jennings Bryan, March 19, 1860, the 97th.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jan. 30, 1882, the 75th.

* * *

THOSE ARE THE 14.

"This crucial year is a time to assess the contributions of some of our great statesmen to our national life," said Dr. Yost.

And in this crucial year Dr. Yost has assessed them all as he has studied them.

Tomorrow this column will start giving his comments on the 14.

Hit Attack On Justices

Georgia Move to Impeach High Court Group Expected to Spread in South

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP)—Gov. Marvin Griffin's move to impeach six justices of the U.S. Supreme Court, including Chief Justice Earl Warren, was attacked today as a "shabby device."

The governor's lieutenants introduced formally in the Georgia House of Representatives today a resolution accusing Mr. Warren, Justices William O. Douglas, Hugo Black, Felix Frankfurter, Tom Clark and Stanley F. Reed of "high crimes and misdemeanors."

At least three other states were expected to join in Georgia's move in retaliation for decisions outlawing forms of segregation in the South. They are Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Desegregation Not Mentioned

The resolution does not mention desegregation decisions handed down by the Supreme Court. But most of its citations concern participation of the justices in decisions which sponsors considered "soft" toward Communists or illegal usurpation of states rights.

President Jacob S. Potofsky of the Sidney Hillman Foundation attacked the resolution for mentioning Douglas' acceptance of a $1,000 foundation award.

The resolution said Douglas and Black accepted "awards of money and things of value" from Communist front organizations while members of the court.

It referred to a dispatch published by the New York Times reporting the presentation of the Sidney Hillman Award to Douglas citing him as "one of the most steadfast guardians of our individual liberties."

Claims Smear Campaign

Potofsky called this "a perfectly shabby device" to "smear" Douglas by calling the foundation "as Communist . . . by innuendo."

Potofsky listed former recipients of the award as including former President Truman, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Roman Catholic Bishop Bernard J. Sheil of Chicago; former Sen. Frank P. Graham of North Carolina, former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman of New York, Sen. Wayne D. Morse of Oregon and former Social Security Administrator Oscar Ewing.

"No one but a bigot would characterize any of this distinguished company as Communist or pro-Communist," Potofsky said.

He said the foundation "honored Justice Douglas in 1952 because they regarded him as a great American . . ."

The resolution accused all six justices of "attempting to subvert the Constitution of the United States and of high crimes and misdemeanors in office and of giving aid and comfort to enemies of the United States."

White County Man Burned

Critically Hurt In Explosion At Farm Home

CROSSVILLE, Ill. — A well-known White county man, Jasper Brown, 88, was critically burned at 4:10 p. m. Wednesday in an explosion in his farm home north of Simpson Switch.

Brown was reported to be in "very critical" condition in Carmi Township hospital suffering burns on his hands, arms and over the upper part of his body. Doctors were unable to say if the elderly man would be permanently blinded by his burns.

Brown was trying to build a fire in a coal stove in the living room of his two-story frame home. He reportedly threw some highly inflammable liquid into the stove.

The resulting explosion burned him and set fire to the living room of his house. Flames spread also into a hallway and another room of the house. The Carmi fire department extinguished the blaze before the building was destroyed. Brown was alone in the house at the time.

Brown and his pair of rare oxen were known as a summertime landmark in the area, with a roadside stand near his home where the oxen were displayed and tourists could pose for pictures with them.

Students from 7 Schools Attend Annual College Night at HTHS

The seventh annual College Night sponsored by the Student Council of Harrisburg Township high school was held yesterday evening at the high school with students from seven high schools attending to get information from representatives of 18 universities, colleges and schools of nursing.

Present were approximately 130 students from Harrisburg, Eldorado, Carrier Mills, Herrin, Vienna, Marion and Rosiclare high schools. Outside of the host school, Herrin had the most attending, 34 coming from the Williamson county institution.

The following colleges, universities and schools of nursing had representatives here to talk to the high school students:

University of Illinois, Millikin, MacMurray, Murray State, Washington University, Wabash, University of Chicago, Park College, Evansville College Rolla School of Mines, Blackburn, Southeast Missouri State, St. Louis University, Lockyear's Business College, Southern Illinois University and Technical Institute, and St. Mary's and the Welborn schools of nursing of Evansville and the Barnes school of nursing of St. Louis. Two local girls in nursing, Regina McCormick and Deloris McDonald, represented St. Mary's.

It was the first time that the University of Chicago had sent a representative to the local affair.

The meeting opened with remarks by Charles Cummins, president of the HTHS Student Council; Eltis F. Henson, HTHS principal; and H. B. Bauman, Student Council sponsor and college adviser.

Then followed four 30-minute periods during which students could confer with the representatives present. The affair was well-organized. All attending received mimeographed sheets telling the rooms assigned to the various representatives.

The affair closed with the serving of refreshments in the girls' gymnasium.

Death Takes Marshall Sisk, 75, Of Carrier Mills

Marshall Sisk, 75, died at his home on North Pyle street in Carrier Mills yesterday at 5 p. m.

Services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Salem Baptist church with the Rev. Jesse Clarida, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Salem cemetery. The body lies in state at the Thornton funeral home in Carrier Mills.

Mr. Sisk leaves one son, George Allen Sisk, of Carrier Mills, who was discharged yesterday from the U. S. Navy stationed at Great Lakes, also a stepson, Leon Pankey of Pontiac, Mich.

Mr. Sisk was a retired coal miner last working at Blue Bird 6 and had been ill for about eight weeks.

His wife, Nellie, preceded him in death in June of 1949.

Rep. Clabaugh to Return from Vacation To Defend Actions on State Contracts

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP) — State Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh will return Monday from a vacation in Canada to defend his actions in obtaining contracts with the University of Illinois and other state agencies.

Reached at Manitoba, Canada, by phone, Clabaugh strongly maintained he has done "nothing wrong" in obtaining the contracts for his firm, the Champaign Weather Strip Co., from the state.

He said he was "ready to cooperate fully" with any investigation of his business dealings, including a possible grand jury investigation. Clabaugh said he would request an attorney general's opinion on the propriety of his dealings with state agencies.

State law prohibits "direct or indirect" dealings by legislators with state contracts. The Sangamon County state's attorney's office is investigating disclosures that Clabaugh bid on and won contracts and sub-contracts for window and weather stripping work on state buildings.

The legislator said he now holds two subcontracts with the U. of I. for weather stripping of a new residence hall, and for installation of window shades at another residence hall.

He said if the attorney general rules that he was wrong in taking the contracts, he will cancel them and "do whatever else is necessary to correct" the situation.

The university here reported it was preparing a full report on the work of the legislator's firm, which would be completed Sunday.

Sangamon County State's Atty. J. Waldo Ackerman said an investigation of the situation so far has not resulted in any "conclusions."

Justice for Israel

Editorial — BY BRUCE BIOSSAT

Throughout the Middle East crisis, the United Nations has taken the position that the countries which invaded Egyptian soil—Britain, France and Israel — should withdraw all forces as a prelude to any settlement of the issues involved. The United States has supported this stand.

It is because of the insistence upon this idea that the U. N. has ordered Israel to evacuate armies from the Egyptian Gaza strip and the islands in the Gulf of Aqaba, the last areas still occupied by Egypt's foes.

There's a difficulty here, however. Israel wants U. N. assurances that these territories will not be used as they have been in the past by Egypt—to harass the Israeli border and interrupt its shipping.

So far, no firm assurances have been forthcoming.

The U. N., for its part, is discussing the application of economic sanctions against Israel if it refuses to pull out. And Secretary of State Dulles says America would consider seriously joining in such a boycott if it were voted.

Perhaps we Americans should ask ourselves at this point whether we really want to go that far.

Israel offended international law when it formally breached the Egyptian border and thrust deep into the Sinai peninsula. But Egypt had long been "informally" violating Israeli soil with impunity, and blockading Israeli ships as well.

The U. N. cease-fire order against Israel plus numerous orders to withdraw have not recognized Egypt's less open, but still very real, disruptions of international tranquility.

To press Israel back into the same perilous position it occupied before the hostilities, or to impose sanctions if it does not yield, is to give the world a wholly distorted view of this dispute. It is to suggest that Israel is the sole offender, and Egypt and Arab states innocent victims.

In taking a rigid stand against resort to force, the U. N., with our backing, already has done much to spread this impression. Egypt's President Nasser strides around as if he had won a great victory, wrapping himself in false robes of morality.

To add the harsh pressure of sanctions seems extreme, since there is no sign of an effective countermove in the U. N. to compel Egypt and the Arab block to desist from border provocations and other harassment of Israel.

This is a two-sided issue. To drive Israel to the wall is hardly two-sided treatment of it.

Respected Member Of Court

The retirement of Supreme Court Justice Stanley Reed removes one of the high court's most eminently qualified members.

Reed was appointed in an era when a candidate's judicial qualifications were becoming secondary in importance. Court appointments were political rewards. But he was an exception.

He did not have a background of service on the bench itself. But in his work as U. S. solicitor general and general counsel for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, he practiced in major cases before the Supreme Court and thoroughly understood its concepts and traditions.

As a federal counsellor, Reed has been a necessary advocate of New Deal measures which underwent court test. In his 19-year tenure on the high court, he moved more than once through a liberal-conservative circle. At his retirement he was once more leaning conservative.

Reed earned high respect from his colleagues on the bench and the legal profession as a whole, despite his swings from one pole to the other. President Eisenhower can do no less than appoint a man of equal attainments to take his place.

Passage of School Aid Has Only 50-50 Chance

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— The sad fact is that President Eisenhower's school aid program is now given only a little better than a 50-50 chance of passage by Congress this year.

This is in spite of a few factors that would indicate more favorable action.

The one very hopeful factor is that many congressmen campaigned last year on promises to vote for school aid legislation this year. Both party platforms endorsed school aid. So politically, the climate for passage should be better.

Furthermore, the shortage of classrooms and teachers is greater this year than last. Pressure on congressmen from parents and local school officials to do something is getting heavier all the time.

But President Eisenhower's school program which was presented to Congress this year is much the same as the program which Congress turned down last year. The objections to it are likewise still the same.

This puts the administration's legislative leaders up against the problem of planning new strategy.

In the long run, they hope it will permit passage of some kind of an aid to education program before the end of the session.

Early action is out.

* * *

MOST PROMISING ASPECT so far is the idea of having Congress take up civil rights legislation before tackling the school aid bill.

There is growing sentiment among southern congressmen to allow passage of a minimum civil rights program this year. This arises for two purposes. First, it would satisfy northern leaders of both major parties who want something done for their Negro voters. Second, it might quiet increased agitation for greater civil liberty by Negro leaders in the South.

If a limited civil rights program could be got through Congress along the lines proposed by President Eisenhower in his State of the Union message, it might do much to take the heat off school aid legislation.

It might permit passage of a school aid bill without a Powell amendment barring federal school construction funds to states that had not complied with the Supreme Court decision against segregated schools.

There is no doubt that Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) will have such an amendment again this year. His amendment was passed last year. But it got some Democratic votes which were then switched to kill the school aid bill on final passage—224 to 194, with 17 absent and not voting.

President Eisenhower wants a school aid law without the Powell amendment. A switch of 25 votes might do it.

* * *

TO AVOID ANOTHER disastrous defeat in the House again this year, the principal strategy being talked of is to get the Senate to act on the school aid bill first. This assumes that the Senate would pass a bill without the anti-segregation amendment and that this would give the House the necessary incentive to approve the legislation in the same form.

But there is one other provision in the school aid bill which White House and Department of Health, Education and Welfare legislative liaison men fear. This is the Walsh-Healy Public Contracts Act. It provides that the secretary of labor shall set minimum wage rates for all labor employed on government contracts.

There is a Walsh-Healy provision in every public works appropriation bill. It goes through Congress without protest. But it can meet with opposition in the case of federal aid for school construction.

The reason is that this money would reach into many small towns and even into many rural communities where consolidated schools would be built by local, nonunion labor. Employers in these smaller communities object to having big city wage rates introduced and imposed on them.

* * *

FINALLY, THERE IS strong opposition to federal interference in public school affairs. There's a feeling that federal financial aid for school construction would be the foot-in-the-door to final federal control of local education.

Strong states-righters will do almost anything to stop that—excepting, of course, the raising of state and local taxes to pay for needed school construction in their own communities.

Feb. 16. North America Baptist. Rev. Sam Motsinger.

Feb. 17. Macedonia Baptist, Rev. Calvin Smith.

Centuries ago, animals were treated like human beings. Pigs, horses and cattle frequently were executed for murder.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

God is light and in Him is no darkness at all—1 John 1:5.

There is no uncertainty or confusion in the Infinite land. We should try to find God's will for us.

Chicago's White Population Declines

CHICAGO (UP)—Chicago's white population has declined since 1950 while the number of non-whites has increased, a study showed today.

The study was made by the Chicago Community Inventory of the University of Chicago, headed by Philip M. Hauser, former acting director of the U. S. Census Bureau.

It showed that by mid-1956 the city's white population had declined from 3,112,000 in 1950 to 3,039,000 in 1956.

The non-white population increased by 197,000 during the six years, from 509,000 in 1950 to 706,000 in 1956.

The study showed that non-whites make up 19 per cent of the city's population.

Population for the city as a whole in mid-1956 was 3,745,000, a gain of 124,000 over the April, 1950, census total.

Unemployment is Rising in Britain

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Where is God? He is everywhere. He is in nature, in man's inventions, in human beings and in their worship.

Some people find the Presence in the little things of life and in their appreciation of even insignificant things. Others turn to God only when big decisions are involved. Many pray only when they are in trouble.

Regardless of the occasions when we pray, God always has time to listen and to give an answer. His answer is not always the one we want at the moment, but we find out later that His judgment was better than our wish.

We must learn to seek and find God everywhere. We can keep in touch with Him at all times. His answer will be better understood than if we only turn to Him for emergency care.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of G. T. Howard, who passed away four years ago Feb. 14:
Memories are treasures no one can steal,
Death is a heartache no one can heal.
Some may forget you, now that you're gone,
But we will remember, no matter how long.
The Family. *193-1

In Memoriam

In loving memory of T-Sgt. William Horvath, who died in the service of his country twelve years ago, Feb. 14, 1945.
We often sit and think of you,
And wonder how you died.
No one you loved was near your side,
To hear your last faint sigh.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
Although we felt your death was near
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
Sadly missed by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horvath, and his sister and families. 193-1

Card of Thanks

GRAY—In the midst of our sorrow, we wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our many relatives, friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us in the loss of a beloved husband and father, and a dear son and father, Paul Gray. We especially wish to thank Elder Harrison Knight and Elder T. Leo Dodd for their consoling words, all the donors of food and of the many beautiful floral offerings; the pallbearers, and singers, the Courtney funeral home for their kind efficient management of the services for William J. Gray and son, Paul Gray.
Mrs. William J. Gray and family and Mrs. Paul Gray and family. 193-1

SUTTON — We wish to thank our good friends and neighbors for their kindness, sympathy and the beautiful flowers, especially the Rev. John Yuhas for his consoling words during the death of our father and loved one, George Sutton.
His daughters, Mrs. Eunice Black, Mrs. Edna Tite, and grandchildren. *193-1

Carrier Mills Singers Furnish Special Music at VA Service

A religious film was shown at the Monday evening Chapel service conducted at the V. A. hospital, Marion, Feb. 11. Following the Bible picture the Melodaires Trio, Carrier Mills, furnished the special music. The trio was composed of Leah Travelstead, Freda Moake, and Mildred Chaney, with Cecil Abney, accompanist. Rev. and Mrs. John Henshaw, Eldorado, sang several duet numbers.

Chaplain Seba E. Marshall gave the invocation, and Rev. Henshaw, pastor of the Karbers Ridge Social Brethren church, delivered the message.

Monday, Feb. 18, at 7:30 p. m., singers from the Marion Third Baptist church will furnish the music for the Chapel service. Adult visitors are welcome.

There are probably less than 130 copies of the first printed collection of Shakespeare's works extant in the world.

DEAL DELAYED—An attempt by the Red Cross to purchase a home for its new national president, retired NATO chief Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, has been given a setback. The $70,000 residence, shown above, is in the exclusive Spring Valley section of Washington. The real estate developer of the community has filed suit to prevent the sale, citing one of 14 restrictive covenants governing sale of Spring Valley property. If the deal goes through, the house will be purchased from a special fund, established in 1919 by 50 friends of the Red Cross.

John Francis Stobarts at Home in Carbondale After Recent Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Stobart

Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Stobart are at home at 1103 West Whitney in Carbondale following their marriage at 8 p. m., Dec. 23, in St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Carbondale, with the Rev. John W. Harris, pastor, officiating.

The wedding took place by candlelight.

The bride is the former Miss Charlotte Rose Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie L. Parker of Du Bois. He is the son of Mrs. John F. Seahorn of Carbondale and the late Francis I. Stobart, and is a former resident of this city.

For her wedding the bride wore a white velveteen sheath dress with white cummerbund and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The maid of honor, Paula Davidson, wore a red velveteen sheath with white cummerbund and carried peppermint carnations.

Joe B. Henry served as best man. Ushers were Frank Stobart and Jim Haines.

William Eddings played organ selections before and during the ceremony.

Mrs. Parker chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue and white suit with navy blue accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a black velvet suit with black and white accessories with rhinestone trim. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

The wedding reception was given in the lower rooms of the church where the table was beautifully decorated with a three tiered wedding cake and punch bowl. Charline Hatchet and Laverne Bridges presided at the table.

The bride is a graduate of Ashley Township high school and now is majoring in the College of Education.

Stobart, a graduate of Carbondale Community high school, also is a junior at Southern, majoring in English in the College of Liberal Arts and sciences. He is a member of Phi Kappa Tau social fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Stobart spent their honeymoon in Danville.

Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Seten Sr., Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Seten Jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs L. Lones of Danville. Mrs. Jones is the sister of the bridegroom.

McKinley Avenue T.E.L. Class Holds Monthly Social

The T.E.L. Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Earl Hicks for the monthly business session and social.

Mrs. Ralph Burroughs led the class in singing "Have Faith in God," and Mrs. Kirt Gasaway gave the opening prayer. Minutes were read and committee reports given.

The class was divided into three groups with Mrs. George Langford, Mrs. Emma Abell and Mrs. Vivian Sheldon as leaders. The devotion from the 100th Psalm was given by Mrs. Webb Yarbrough. Closing prayer was by Mrs. James Ford.

During the social hour Ralph Burroughs showed movies of the old church building being torn down and the building of the new one.

Mrs. Langford and Mrs. Athel Dillard assisted the hostess in serving refreshments of heart-shaped cakes, ice cream, coffee and pop, to those mentioned and to the following: Mrs. Herbert Clark, Mrs. Henry Short, Mrs. Seth Rister, Mrs. Carval Herron, Mrs Iva Tolbert, Mrs. Paul Hilliard, who is the assistant teacher in the absence of Mrs. Lilly Chitty who is ill, and visitors, Ralph Burroughs, Earl Hicks, Harold and Bob Hicks.

Poem Read to Lenore Circle In Memory of Gladys Gaskins

Misses Ethel Ewing and Julia Williamson were hostesses to approximately fifteen members of the Lenore circle of the First Presbyterian church, Feb. 11 at 7 p. m. at Schnierle's cafe. After dessert the group went to the church parlor for the program and lesson.

A poem in memory of Gladys Gaskins, written by Annette Anderson, "A Tribute To Gladys, My Friend," was read by Mildred Boicourt.

The lesson, "Spiritual Growth in Every Age," was given by Mary Morrison, Fay Farrar and Milded Boicourt. Mrs. Julia Furman gave the Year Book of Prayer and the devotion was given by Clara Louise Pittman.

Philathea Sunday School Class Holds Regular Social

Mrs. Essie Holloway of 722 West Sloan was hostess to the Philathea Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church Tuesday evening.

The meeting opened with the song, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and with prayer by Mrs. Jesse Gibbons. Mrs. Jewel Blackman gave the devotion taking her scripture from the 92nd chapter of Psalm.

Closing prayer was by the class teacher, Mrs. Della McDonald. During the recreation period conducted by Myrtle Jones and Ruth Griffiths, prizes were won by Helen Gibbons and Ruth Rankins.

Refreshments of date pudding, whipped cream, coffee and Cokes were served in keeping with the Valentine theme.

Present were Mrs. Evadene Woodruff, Mrs. Charley Gibbons, Mrs. Roy Chamberlain, Mrs. Houston Coker, Mrs. Della McDonald, Mrs. Calvin Blackman, Mrs. Reva English, Mrs. Rufus Griffith, Mrs. Earl Robb, Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. Jesse Gibbons, Mrs Rev Rankins and visitors, Mrs. Earl Cooley and son, and Wynonna English.

Valentine Party By Amoma Class

A Valentine party by the Amoma class of the First Baptist church, held at the education building Tuesday evening, was attended by twenty-five people, who dined potluck and then listened to a very good devotion. Mrs. Lillian Tuttle spoke on four keys to Christian living: Love, prayer, peace, and consecration.

Mrs. E. W. Smith, class president; Mrs. Archie Abney, vice-president, and Mrs. C. C. Porter had charge of the program, which concluded with three hilarious contests. Winners were Mrs. M. R. Williams, Mrs. Archie Abney, Mrs. Cecil Pulliam, and Ila Craggs, Brenda and David Clift.

Mrs. Pearl Allen was in charge of the food, and the supper was served buffet style. On the buffet which was laid with a light blue cover were bouquets of gladiolus carrying out the Valentine theme, with a beautiful picture of Jesus, entitled "Inspiration."

Up and down the table at which the members were seated were Valentine hearts bearing names of 22 men from the Harrisburg area who have been called to the ministry within the past decade.

Mr. Porter assisted Mrs. Porter with the games, as did also Charles Gibbons and Cecil Pulliam. J. B. Moore led the singing and Mrs. R. C. Riegel pianoed.

Miss Robin Wathen Honored With Shower

Miss Robin Wathen was honored with a personal shower recently at the home of Mrs. Norma Travelstead.

Games were played with refreshments served.

Many lovely gifts were received from Doris Butterworth, Donna Butterworth, Doris McIlrath, Joan Mullinix, Linda Schwartz, Myrna Boatright, Wanda Smith, LaNell Gwinn, Mrs. Shirley Thomas Jane Hughes, Barbara Upchurch, Sally Schwartz, Nina McDaniel, Veda Rees and Lorene Schwartz.

Cindy Hankins Has Party On Seventh Birthday

A birthday party was given Friday, Feb. 8, by Mrs. Gertrude Hankins for the seventh birthday of her daughter, little Miss Cindy Hankins, at her home in the Dallasania community.

Various games were enjoyed by all the children present, and after the play period Cindy opened her gifts from her friends. Cake and ice cream were served after Cindy had blown out the seven candles on her cake.

Those present to help celebrate her birthday were Donna Kay Spring, Teresa Travelstead, Suzie Richey, Sharon Disney, Linda Kay Dallas and Doris Dallas.

Top Air Force General Tells of Plans to Disperse Units in U. S.

WASHINGTON (UP)—A top Air Force general said today that Russia's ability to strike the United States with air-atomic weapons is increasing "steadily and rapidly."

Gen. Thomas D. White, vice chief of staff, also bared Air Force plans for dispersing combat units widely in the United States to reduce their vulnerability to sudden attack.

White was the leadoff speaker at a jet-age conference sponsored by the Air Force Assn. One thousand government, industry, military and education leaders were invited.

America's retaliatory forces, White said, "will be deployed to enough bases so that a potential attacker could never hope to destroy enough of our bombers to prevent our decisive retaliation."

The general thus made it clear that the problem of noise from military jet aircraft, one of the prime topics of the jet-age conference, will be a continuing one. He acknowledged that aircraft noise is "the greatest single point of friction" between the Air Force and communities near its bases.

The conference also heard of steps being taken to hold down the noise level of big commercial jet transports going into service in another two years and heard described the civil aeronautics' plans for easing the air traffic control problem.

Other speakers told of the growing economic importance of commercial airports to cities and of the need for non-airline airports to support so-called "general aviation" which is growing by leaps and bounds.

White said that moving airports from population centers has proved of little value because an airbase is a big business which quickly spawns new communities.

Air defense bases and fields used by reservists must in any case be nearer towns and important target areas, he said.

The general, warning of Russia's growing atomic power, said that this nation's retaliatory forces would be only the "crews, bombs and bombers that would escape" the first enemy attack.

He said that the Strategic Air Command's bombers must be dispersed over more bases as a means of strengthening their deterrent power without increasing their number.

House Group Favors Probe of Welfare Program

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — A resolution calling for a full scale investigation of Illinois' public assistance program was on its way back to the House floor today after a committee voted to recommend its adoption.

The resolution, introduced by Sen. Russell R. Arrington (R-Evanston) has already been approved by the Senate. Arrington asked for the investigation after the Legislation approved a $30,150,000 emergency appropriation for public aid payments through next June.

The House Executive Committee approved the proposed investigation after some debate. It also recommended passage of two bills to extend competive bidding and centralized purchasing rules to all state agencies.

The bills were part of Gov. William G. Stratton's fiscal reform program. The committee, however, delayed action on another key administration bill to create a department of financial institutions, which would regulate banks and similar organizations now under supervision of the auditor's office.

In other hearings the House Municipalities Committee recommended passage of three bills which would increase the salaries of aldermen, village trustees and village presidents in many Illinois communities.

The measures include proposals to increase the pay of aldermen in cities of less than 350,000 from $15 to $24 per meeting, and increase the pay of trustees in villages under 60,000 population $5 to $15 for each meeting.

Brownfield Community Farmer Dies

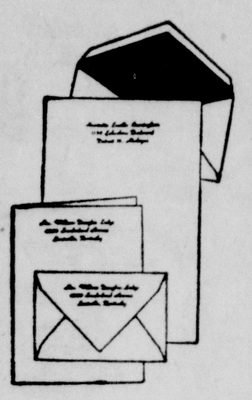

George E. Melvin, 86, a retired farmer of the Brownfield community west of Golconda, died yesterday at 6 a. m. at the Herron hospital.

New Grocery Contract For Area 2 Clerks

Guy Price, president of District 1, Retail Clerks International association, said a new grocery contract involving Area 2, calling for seven cents an hour wage increases across the board, has been ratified. It will expire Jan. 18, 1958.

Towns in Area 2, he said, are Golconda, Rosiclare, Carrier Mills, Vienna, Metropolis, Cairo, Eldorado and Carmi.

Harrisburg is in Area 1, along with some of the larger towns.

Commission Studies Welfare Budget

the Senate passed and sent to the House an emergency appropriation of $3,474,300 to permit the Welfare Department to operate through next June. Its original 1955-57 funds are nearly exhausted.

Senate bills introduced Wednesday would:

Set up an Illinois equality of opportunity commission to administer a state fair employment practices act.

Permit persons sent to jail for misdemeanors or contempt of court to be freed to go to their jobs during working hours.

Require the Illinois Commerce Commission to hold hearings at county seats in counties affected by proposed rate increases by public utilities if 5 per cent of the voters petition for hearings.

Require registration of lobbyists at Springfield. A similar bill is already before the Legislature.

Permit motorists to purchase special reflectorized auto license plates for an extra $3.

Flora Legion Club Burglarized

FLORA, Ill. (UP)—Police say burglars bludgeoned open a safe with sledge hammers at the Flora American Legion club early today and took more than $2,000.

The club was left in wild disorder by the intruders who hammered down four doors during their prowl for other valuables. They did not take a quantity of checks in the safe.

Police say the burglary was discovered by the club janitor this morning when he came to work. The club closed at midnight.

The burglars crawled through a front window to enter the club.

She leaves her husband, W. D., and the following sons: George Elimon of Benton, Homer C. of Newton, Kansas, William B. of Chicago, and James C. of Indianapolis; and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Eoshie Curley, Oscar Smothers, H. R. Smothers and Robert Smothers, all of Parish, Ill., Mrs. Nerzia Tanner of Dixon Ill., Willy Smothers, Carterville, Anna Bullinger of Carterville; also eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Courtney funeral home in Galatia to lie in state until the funeral hour which will be Saturday at 2 p. m. at Pleasant Hill church north of Thompsonville. Rev. Howard Snyder will officiate and interment will be in the church cemetery.

Legion Auxiliary Members Aid in Heart Fund Drive

Clubs and organizations, businessmen and private individuals are being sent letters by Mrs. R. W. Rankin, 1957 Heart Fund chairman of the Illinois Heart Association's annual campaign, now underway in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Rankin is being assisted by members of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Enclosed with the letters is a copy of "Your Heart Dollars at Work," which gives an outline of work being done by the Illinois Heart Association, its chapters and regions.

"I wish that everyone receiving a letter, will take a few minutes time to read the message from the heart association," said Mrs Rankin. "I'm sure if you do, you will want to continue to help the heart association in its battle against the nation's leading cause of death."

"With public understanding of the heart and blood vessel diseases more widespread than in any previous year, and with growing recognition of the need for research to provide vital answers to the heart problems, we are sure the Heart Fund drive in Harrisburg will be a big success this year."

Circuit Clerk Records Pictures Of County Officers

It's been duly recorded that all the Saline county officers are Democrats.

The recording was done by James R. Burroughs, circuit clerk, who is in charge of all recording as the county recorder.

Burroughs, using the photostat machine that is used in taking pictures of official documents, photographed the pictures of all the officers, County Clerk Don Garrison, Judge Trafton Dennis, Treasurer Maynard Cannon, Coroner James Thornton, School Superintendent C. Raymond Gardner, Sheriff William T. Barrett, State's Attorney Robert V. Wilson and Circuit Clerk Burroughs.

The document was filed in Miscellaneous Book 2, Page 544, between an affidavit and a service station lease.

"To keep the action official I paid the regular filing fee for the recording," Burroughs stated.

Gov't Cancels Benton Post Office Building Project

WASHINGTON (UP) — The government today announced cancelation of four Illinois projects which were authorized for construction under the now-cancelled federal "lease-purchase" program of public building.

They were a Benton post office and courthouse, Breese post office and federal office building, Rock Island post office and courthouse under construction, and Winnetka post office.

Robbery Victim In Coma for Fourth Year

CHICAGO (UP)—A robbery victim's wife watched her husband sleep through St. Valentine's day today and on into his fourth year in a coma.

John Brookhouse, 39, was dragged from his taxi Feb. 13, 1954, by two men who first robbed him of $18.65 and then beat him into unconsciousness.

Since that time, Brookhouse has lain in a Cook County hospital bed, fed through a stomach tube, silent, and apparently oblivious to all existence outside his slumber world.

Mrs. Anne Brookhouse, who has visited her husband's bedside every day but one since the beating, has continually prayed, along with the couple's three teen-aged children, for his recovery.

The one day she missed was due to illness.

But hospital officials have not offered much hope. A nurse quoted doctors as saying "there's no hope for his recovery." She said, however, that the patient has responded to familiar voices, especially his wife's. Although doctors don't think Brookhouse can understand what his wife says to him, Mrs. Brookhouse said he will occasionally answer her with his eyes.

The only visitors to his quiet hospital room, except his immediate family and physicians, include fellow taxi-drivers, curious patients and faith healers. Periodically police officials stop by to learn if Brookhouse might help them by some identification of his assailants. But they are inevitably greeted by silence.

Report Stassen to Resign to Run for Governor in Pennsylvania

WASHINGTON (UP) — Presidential Disarmament Adviser Harold E. Stassen plans to resign his White House job early next year to wage a campaign for the Pennsylvania governorship, informed sources said today.

They said Stassen has told President Eisenhower of his plans and the two have agreed he should remain in his present job for the rest of the year to handle delicate disarmament negotiations with the Soviet Union. The negotiations are scheduled to begin soon in the five-nation disarmament subcommittee of the United Nations.

Stassen, a former Minnesota governor, now maintains his legal residence in Pennsylvania. He is a former president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Now No Worry About Catching Cold by Valentine Day Kisses

NEW YORK (UP)— A move, taken here today, will alleviate worries of catching colds from Valentine Day kisses.

Grove Laboratories Inc. said it would send a free supply of citroid cold pills to any boy friend or husband who caught cold on Feb. 14 and didn't think the pleasure worth the ailment. The laboratories said odds are 1 to 10 kissing men will catch a cold.

Army Bans Sale Of Beer to Guardsmen, Reservists Under 18½

WASHINGTON (UP)— The Army has banned the sale of 3.2 beer on military posts to reservists and National Guardsmen under 18 1-2 years of age who are taking six months' active duty training.

The Army issued an order Wednesday adding beer containing 3.2 per cent alcohol by volume to its list of prohibited alcoholic beverages. The regulations apply to post exchanges.

The latest order, effective immediately, was issued after Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore) complained at a House Armed Services Committee hearing that youths were drinking on Army posts.

The order does not apply to regular Army recruits unless state laws prohibit such sales.

Douglas to Hold Farm Meetings

WASHINGTON (UP) — Illinois Sen. Paul H. Douglas will hold a series of farm meetings in Illinois late this month to hear farmers' views on price problems, the soil bank, corn allotments and other farm topics.

Douglas' office announced the meetings will be held Feb. 12 at Princeton, Feb. 22 at Mount Vernon, and Feb. 24 at Taylorville.

The Democratic senator said he wanted "to get a 'grass roots' expression of opinion so that I may be better informed about the real wishes of Illinois farmers' on current problems and pending legislation."

Carpentier Submits $27 Million Budget

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier Wednesday submitted a proposed 27 million dollar budget for his department for the two years ending in June, 1959.

The proposals, about five million dollars higher than for 1955-57, was outlined before the Illinois Budgetary Commission. Carpentier said a good part of the increase would go for higher salaries to department employes.

He said increased cost in handling drivers' licenses and auto license plates also required more funds.

SALINE ASSOCIATION MINISTERS TO MEET

Boy, 15, Clubs Father to Death

PLACERVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Authorities prepared to file a murder charge today against a 15-year-old boy who clubbed his father to death with a baseball bat.

The youth, Michael Markham, confessed he struck his father "seven or eight times" Tuesday night because he "had it coming."

He said his father, Dewitt Markham, 46-year-old plumber, had been drinking for several days. He said the elder Markham got into an argument with his wife, Doris, and struck and kicked her.

Mrs. Markham is Michael's stepmother. The youth said his father had often beaten both his stepmother and his mother.

The Daily Register 30c a week by carrier boy.

Strike Ends

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — A transit strike that left residents of this highly populated area without bus transportation for 104 days was ended today, and workers were expected to return to their jobs early Monday.

SIU Offers Adult Night Courses To Rosiclare Area

Adult night courses in arts and crafts and radiological detection will be offered to Rosiclare area adults for the next 12 weeks by the Southern Illinois University Division of Technical and Adult Education in cooperation with Rosiclare Community High School.

Registration for the non-credit classes will be conducted at 7 p. m. Monday, Feb. 18, at the high school. The first class session will follow immediately.

Arts and crafts, to be taught by Golconda teacher Denver Dunn, will cover such hobbies as basket weaving, sheet and liquid plastics, metalcraft, driftwood sculpture, woodcraft, etc.

Guy DeNeal, who has been licensed after taking specialized training in the field, will teach the radiological detection course. It will include instruction in radiological decontamination, home protection, emergency care, facts about fall-out and actual field practice with detection instruments.

Both classes will meet from 7-10 p. m. on Mondays. Tuition fees are $7.20 for arts and crafts and $9 for radiological detection. Veterans may present a copy of discharge papers in lieu of cash for payment.

Eldorado High School Notes

Candidates for Basketball Queen of the Eldorado Township high school were announced today.

Nominated by varsity basketball players were Barbara McCallister, Faye Cheek, Myra Cox, Judy Bramlet and Judy Lanham. The entire student body will vote to decide who will be Queen and the identity will remain a secret until the coronation hour, Friday, Mar. 1.

The coronation ceremonies will be held following the evening presentation of the Junior class play "Twelve Angry Men."

There will be two performances of the play, at 1:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.

The ETHS chapter of the National Honor Society will present a 30-minute play "If Girls Ask Boys For Dates," during the Friday noon assembly period, Mrs. Laura McDermott, sponsor, announced today.

Members of the cast are Jon Montgomery, David Reeves, Judy Bramlet and Mary Jo Davis.

Initiation of new members into the National Honor Society at Eldorado high school will be held in April. To be eligible for membership a student must maintain an average of at least 4.5 for two semesters.

BROWNIE TROOP 13 was invested Jan. 30 and the members are now Intermediate Scouts. Intermediate Troop 11 helped in the investure ceremonies. Mrs. James Moore and Miss Jane Rice are leaders of Troop 13 and the girls are Teresa Davis, Candy Duncan, Betty Ann Gobin, Candy Hall, Martha Hays, Helena Humphrey, Connie Jo Mathews, Suellen Melton, Marsha Moore, Katie Stallings, Brenda Williams, Randy Wilson, Marsha Winkleman, Stephenie Fulkerson, Sharon Ray Sutton and three who had measles at the time of the investure, Katie Gaskins, Marsha Lynn Boyd, and Kathie Roper. Leaders of Troop 11 are Mrs. John Slightom, and Mrs. James Gaskins and the girls are Lynn Franks, Mary Ann Slightom, Katie Lou Miley, Janet Gaskins, Connie Ziegler, Roberta Patrick, and Brenda Reynolds.

Girl Scouting

The Girl Scout Leader Neighborhood Association elections will be held Feb. 18 at 7:30 p. m. at Wesley Center. Mrs. K. C. Capel will give instructions on puppet making at this meeting.

Home Hint

Many home accidents occur on stairways. Their number is reduced greatly when the stairs are carpeted to cover the slipprone wood surface.

A DOCTOR for BLUE JAY COVE

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

Copyright 1956 by Elizabeth Seifert. Distributed by NEA Service

XXXI

Alex went out through the front door of the hospital, and across the leaf-littered porch; he went down the steps, along the drive, pitted and gullied from last night's streams of water. Alex walked the 10-odd blocks, skirting these hazards and not seeing them any more plainly than did the people who clustered at porch steps, or on the street corners down on Broadway, all of them talking in shocked tones, not of the storm so much as of the price which that storm had exacted. Of the death of Lenoire, that saint, that angel.

The small chapel which would serve as an inquest room was crowded when he entered the funeral establishment. All eyes held to the stretcher and the sheeted form upon it.

Mike Benniger, the undertaker, took Alex by the arm. "There's a bruise on her temple, Doc . . ."

"I can't examine her here!" Alex spoke brusquely.

For nearly two hours the procedure dragged on. A dozen volunteers eagerly gave their ideas about where they supposed Lenoire had been going on that stormy night in her "little old car." The phrase itself became loathsome to Alex.

"She brought a whole stack of comic books to Jimmy when he broke his laig. . . ."

"She may have already rescued people in the lowlands, and was on her way to take out others . . ."

"Perhaps she'd heard someone was sick, and not able to get a doctor."

But it was finally Alex's turn, and he asked that the room be cleared. Reluctantly the people departed, still talking, still adding luster to their saint's halo.

The sheet was folded back, and Alex gazed down upon the classic, pure features of the girl who had always been strange, who now would always be . . .

"Yes," he said gruffly, "she is the woman I knew as Lenoire Black."

"What do you mean, Doc?" asked the coroner. "Wasn't she . . . ?"

"I don't know," said Alex. "I never knew a great deal about her beyond her medical condition."

"You think she drowned, don't you, Doc?"

• • •

Alex lightly lifted the hair at her temple. Like golden silk, it clung to his finger. There was a small bruise, but—"Yes." You could put it down to suffocation due to drowning."

He tugged his hat down over his eyes, and prepared to thread his way through the groups of people who still clustered in the hall and outside the door of the establishment. Mike Benniger caught up with him, and said a word or two about the storm.

"Doctor?"

Alex turned, ready to be brusque, then he relaxed. In Blue Jay Cove, no one fobbed off Adrian DeGreefe.

The tall, gray-haired man seemed as sure of that fact as Alex was resigned to it. "I'd like a word with you and Mike," he said quietly.

The three men drew to one side of the pavement. The curious watched them, but did not crowd close. DeGreefe passed his flat silver case filled with cigarets. Alex looked oddly at the rich man, realizing how much better he knew DeGreefe by reputation than he did in fact. He didn't suppose he'd ever exchanged more than 50 words with this man, and yet he could have talked in detail about him, about his wealth, his individualistic habits, his famed flower garden and his orchids. This morning DeGreefe's eyes held more than a suspicion of moisture This was, he declared, a terrible thing that had happened. Miss Black had done so much for his blind mother—and for him. "I came into town to tell someone—you, Mike, I suppose will have charge of the funeral?"

"Well, until we locate her family—"

"Well, she was a wonderful creature," said Adrian DeGreefe solemnly. "And what I wanted to say was, I mean to open my gardens on the day of the funeral so that the people here in town can come in, pick the flowers, and take them to the bier—" He made a choking sound in his throat, and Alex glanced at him sharply.

Bier, thought Alex. He'd not heard the word in years.

". . . take them," DeGreefe resumed, "and pile them about that golden-haired saint. As you know, I've never been a religious man, but I'll confess that her life has set me to thinking, gentlemen. Yes, it certainly has."

Alex dropped his cigaret to the pavement, and stepped upon it. "Yes," he agreed, "it's given me some things to think about, too." He nodded, pleasantly, and strode away.

Back at the Haven, Cass too had thinking to do. She was busy; routine must be re-established; that morning some of the help still were missing. Word had come of Lenoire's death; Cass decided that Aunt Cordy need not be told, only to discover an hour later that in some way Aunt Cordy had found out, and seemed not too disturbed by the news.

Cass remembered what Alex had said last night, at the peak of the storm, that his mother's illness protected her from a full realization of grief and danger—which, perhaps, was a good thing.

Cass would consider that later. Just now there were damp rugs to be put out to air, wet towels to be taken up from where they had been packed against the windows.

Chet Forte Grabs Scoring Lead from Chamberlain; Bradley Trips St. Louis

By United Press

A record-busting 45-point spree catapulted Chet (The Jet) Forte, the "champion of the little man," back into the national basketball scoring lead today ahead of seven-foot Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain.

Five-nine Forte of Columbia needed a whopping 42 points in Wednesday night's tussle with Pennsylvania and he did it with three free throws to spare in a 93-75 triumph, smashing three scoring records and tying the Ivy League single-game record.

With 513 points in 17 games, the Little Lion now boasts an average of 30.2 points against 29.94 for Chamberlain of Kansas and 29.90 for six-five Grady Wallace of South Carolina.

Tourney Hopes Rise

Forte's feat helped keep alive Columbia's hopes of an NCAA tourney berth through overtaking Yale in the Ivy League or through a member-at-large berth.

The "David vs. two Goliaths" scoring battle once again overshadowed another of North Carolina's close brushes with disaster. The nation's No. 1 team and only major unbeaten squad managed to push its record to 20-0 but only by an eyelash in a 72-69 win at home over Wake Forest.

It was the fourth straight "squeaker" for the Tar Heels and the fourth straight game in which chunky Tommy Kearns saved the bacon. Wake Forest, ranked 14th nationally had rallied from an 11-point deficit to trail by only 68-67 with 64 seconds left when the five-11 Tar Heel junior from Bergenfield, N. J., took charge. His two free throws with 45 seconds left boosted the edge to 70-67.

After Carolina added a free throw and Wake Forest a basket, Kearns dribbled for 13 seconds before being fouled and added the final point with just one second to go.

Canisius Upset Victim

Bradley, the nation's No. 5 team, gained a tie with Wichita for first place in the three-cornered Missouri Valley race by whipping St. Louis' zone defense, 76-70. Jack Mimlitz of St. Louis took scoring honors with 20 points, but his team dropped to a 7-2 mark while Bradley moved up with Wichita at 7-1.

Seton Hall scored the biggest upset, 102-87, over 11th-ranked Canisius as speedy Dick Gaines hit for 34 points. Eighth-ranked Louisville scored 40 points in the first 12 minutes and cruised to a 99-79 win over Marquette despite Mike Moran's 29 points.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Paul McKinnis of Eldorado has retired from the basketball officiating business and may not call any football games in the future, he told me just recently.

McKinnis was active in the officiating profession for about 20 years and prior to that time made quite a name for himself as a high school and college athlete.

• • •

An iron gate dropped on his right foot two summers ago led to the retirement by McKinnis, who had just about reached the top of the officiating heap and seemed to be set for the big time for several years.

During July, 1955, while working around his house McKinnis was carrying an iron gate and it slipped and hit across the instep of his right foot.

It wasn't long until the football season rolled around and he fulfilled all his contracts and the foot didn't bother him very much.

Then came basketball and the pounding up and down the hardwood floors began to take its toll. About mid-season, following a Big Ten game at the University of Michigan, the foot acted up and McKinnis went to a bone specialist, who advised that basketball officiating be terminated immediately.

It was.

• • •

For many years McKinnis was a familiar figure in high school circles, calling games throughout southern Illinois and in the E. St. Louis area.

Later he began to call in the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, later came assignments in the Missouri Valley and finally the Big Ten.

McKinnis had officiating assignments in the Big Ten for both foot ball and basketball and was recommended by the Big Ten commissioner to make a trip to Europe under Army sponsorship to hold athletic clinics for servicemen at bases on the continent. McKinnis and another nationally known midwest athletic official spent several weeks on the assignment.

• • •

McKinnis now is in his second year away from the excitement of the basketball picture and has made a clean break—doesn't even attend high school games in his home town of Eldorado.

• • •

Mac did call a few football games during the 1956 season and has stated he had been offered contracts for games this coming season. He hasn't returned the contracts yet, either signed or unsigned. Hasn't made up his mind.

Running the gridiron doesn't hurt the injured foot as much as the hardwood basketball court and it's possible McKinnis will be blowing his whistle again come the 1957 football season.

• • •

The annual holiday basketball tournament held at Centralia will have a strong field of contenders again this year. Competing for honors will be teams from the following 16 schools—Centralia, Salem, Pinckneyville, Collinsville, Herrin, Belleville, Marion, Olney, Quincy, Rock Island Alleman, Carmi, Litchfield, Benton, Paris, Champaign and Lincoln.

Teams not returning from the 1956 meet are McLeansboro, Bradley and Robinson, being replaced by Paris, Champaign and Lincoln.

• • •

Engineers and stress analysts can put away their computers on the problem of just how hard Mickey Mantle will be able to hit a ball eventually, says The Sporting News. Casey Stengel has come up with the answer. "One of these days," Stengel said, "Mickey'll hit a ball so hard it'll bust, and all he'll get for his efforts will be a single."

• • •

In case fans this summer wonder what are on the ring fingers of Cincinnati Reds' players, says The Sporting News, it's a special ring with the number 221 in the center. The rings are in recognition of the Reds' feat of hitting 221 homers last season, tying the major league record set by the Giants in 1947. Not only players wear the rings. The coaches, trainer, traveling secretary, general manager, and even the batboy and clubhouse boys are eligible to wear them.

Miss Phyllis Payne Crowned Queen As Equality Scores Cage Wins

Miss Phyllis Payne was crowned Basketball Queen of the Equality high school Wednesday night between two overwhelming victories by the Equality cage teams.

The evening's program started with a 55-35 Equality victory in the preliminary game, then came the coronation and the Equality varsity closed the night on a high note with a 65-38 decision. Mills Prairie was the visiting team.

After a close first half, with Equality holding a slim 25-24 lead, the home town boys, paced by sophomore forward Harlin Barnett, took control in the opening minutes of the third quarter and pulled away for an easy victory.

In a big 18-4 third quarter, Barnett had more than half of Equality's points on five field goals and a free throw for an 11-point frame.

In the final quarter Coach Tony Franc cleared his bench, giving every Equality player an opportunity to perform before the coronation crowd.

Queen Proclaimed

Queen Phyllis was escorted to the beautifully decorated stage by Gordon Smith, who then proclaimed her Basketball Queen of the Equality high school for the 1956-57 season, placed the crown on her head and presented her with the basketball. The starting five then lined up near the end of the floor, Queen Phyllis pitched them the ball and the varsity began its warm up drills.

Attendants and their escorts were Senior—Sue Frohock and Terry Glover; Junior—Jean Milligan and Bernie Emery; Sophomore—Louis Garrett and Jimmie Carnett; garden also were in the color guard.

Two Games to Play

The crown bearer was Gary Franc and Mike Burtis the basketball bearer. Flower girls were Cindy Mahan and Pam Barnett and train bearers were Brenda Moore and Pam Gowan.

George Sisk was master of ceremonies.

Equality has only two games remaining on its regular schedule, playing at Thompsonville Feb. 19 and closing the season at Rosiclare Feb. 22.

Members of the Court escorted by a color guard of girls dressed in white ballerina length dresses and team players in uniform — Dephane Walters and Don Thompson, Minnie Moore and Jim Coyle, Roxanna Mahan and Carl Barnett, Ollie Carnett and Bill Fink, Carolyn Mann and Larry Mitchell, Freda Sisk and David Beverly, Phyllis Panier and Ron Thompson, Linda Mahan and Buddy Colbert. Injury May Keep Cowger Out of Play Friday Night

Carrier Mills will be without the services of Jack Cowger, 6-1 senior forward, for the Norris City game Friday.

Cowger sprained an ankle at Cave-in-Rock Feb. 2 and did not see action the past weekend against McLeansboro or Galatia.

When the injury failed to respond to treatment x-rays were taken and a severe sprain revealed.

"I hope he will be ready by the time we play at Eldorado, Feb. 23," Coach Wills said yesterday.

Lewis Williams, a junior and at 5-11 two inches shorter than Cowger, has taken over a starting forward post.

Richard McNew, a 6-2 junior out of action for about three weeks, has returned to the squad and worked out Wednesday afternoon.

McNew became ill sometime ago and at first it was thought he had a heart ailment and his basketball career at an end.

However, it turned out he had a badly infected throat and the infection caused a slight heart flutter.

He stated yesterday that he had been examined by a heart specialist in St. Louis and told his heart was sound.

McNew was practicing about half time Wednesday, resting as much as playing, but probably will suit up Friday.

Bull Dogs Play at Benton Friday Night, At Eldorado Saturday

Rangers Only South Seven Team Beaten By Locals This Year

Harrisburg this week takes on the only South Seven team it has beaten this year when the Bull Dogs travel to Benton Friday night, but the Rangers showed amazing strength in their last outing, when they travelled to Eldorado Saturday night and won, 81 to 52.

When Benton came here for a cage encounter a few weeks back, Harrisburg had to win the hard way. Behind nine points with three minutes to go, the Bull Dogs got hot and won by three points in regulation time.

Harrisburg and Benton currently are tied for last place in the conference standings with one win and nine losses. Benton's victory came early in the season over West Frankfort, now pushing Herrin for the leadership.

Harrisburg last week-end got in some nce basketball, losing but by three points, 63-60, at Centralia, and beating McLeansboro here, 64 to 53.

Other Games

Two other South Seven games Friday night will be Herrin at Mt. Vernon and West Frankfort at Marion.

Other contests that evening will be Norris City at Carrier Mills, Eldorado at McLeansboro, Attucks at Trico, Carbondale at Chester, Carmi at Fairfield, Vienna at Mound City, Shawneetown at Galatia, Salem at Mt. Carmel, Pope County at Rosiclare, Cave-in-Rock at Karnak, Sparta at Murphysboro, Elkville at Carterville, Du Quoin at Pinckneyville, Christopher at Zeigler and Sesser at Hurst-Bush.

Harrisburg, which beat Eldorado in Davenport gym in the only meeting of the two teams this year, plays in the Eagle gymnasium Saturday night.

Other Saturday night games are: Benton at Centralia, a conference game, Carbondale at West Frankfort, Olney at Carmi, Johnston City at Herrin, Murphysboro at Marion, Salem at Mt. Vernon, Decatur at Pinckneyville, Anna-Jonesboro at Christopher, and Carterville at Zeigler.

South Seven conference standings:

Team	W	L
Herrin	9	1
West Frankfort	8	2
Mt. Vernon	6	4
Centralia	6	4
Marion	4	6
Harrisburg	1	9

Brown Stops Bud Smith in Return Fight

MIAMI BEACH (UP) — Jubilant Joey Brown, fresh from a TKO victory in his first defense of the lightweight crown, aimed at some "fast, big money" today in a May title bout wth southpaw Kenny Lane.

Brown received $15,924 for stopping ex-champ Wallace (Bud) Smith in the 11th round of their return title fight Wednesday night before a sellout crowd of 4,129 at Miami Beach Auditorium.

It was the first purse for lanky Joe of New Orleans since he won the 135-pound crown from Smith of East Orange, N. J., last Aug. 24. And, although it was the largest of his career, he said, "That's peanuts compared to what I'll make—now that Smith is out of the way and my right hand is in good shape."

Lane Logical Opponent

Truman Gibson, executive secretary of the International Boxing Club, said, "Since Brown wants to make money in a quick fight, his logical opponent is Kenny Lane—a good puncher who can really test the champion's chin."

Champion Brown, 30, registered his eighth straight win Wednesday night when Dr. Alexander Robbins examined Smith in his corner after the end of the 10th round and waved his hands to signify that the bout was stopped. Smith was bleeding from a cut inside his mouth, and he claimed he had been unable to see properly from his left eye after a blow in the fourth round.

Smith, weighing 134 pounds to Brown's 134¾, suffered his fifth straight defeat and his third consecutive loss to champion Joey. Smith lost the title on a split decision to Brown at New Orleans last August, after having been outpointed by Brown in a non-title 10-rounder three months earlier.

Archie Dees Tops Big 10 Scorers

CHICAGO (UP) — Indiana has grabbed the Big Ten basketball lead because it has the league leading scorer in center Archie Dees and the top sharpshooter in Dick Neal, official statistics indicated today.

Dees holds nearly a 2-point-per-game edge over the second leading scorer, Frank Howard of Ohio State, while Neal, in 8th place in scoring with a 16.2-point-per-game average, has hit on 54.3 per cent of his field goal attempts to be the only player in the top 40 scorers to go over the 50 per cent mark. Dees has averaged 22.6 points per game and Howard 20.8.

Ohio State, in second place, was the top team in field goal accuracy with a 45.1 per cent mark. Two other teams also were hitting over 40 per cent, Illinois at 42.4 and Purdue at 40.1, with Indiana the 4th best shooting team at 39.1.

Harrisburg and Grayville to Play For Junior Hi Title

Harrisburg and Grayville will play this evening for the championship of the Junior high school regional basketball tournament being played at Norris City.

They won their way into the final game with victories over Dorrisville and Galatia respectively.

In the opening semifinal game Harrisburg, with three consecutive 22-point quarters, ran up a 66-25 lead over Dorrisville after three quarters and won by a score of 80-43.

Grayville defeated Galatia 57-43.

Tonight in the consolation game Dorrisville and Galatia will play, making the fifth time this season the two have met. In four previous games each has won twice.

Playing for Harrisburg last night were Karnes, Roberson, Henshaw, Utter, Meler, Shelton, Abney, Vinyard, Hopkins, Potter, Worth and Barnett. In the Dorrisville lineup were Lamb, Hutchison, Cline, McKeever and McClusky.

Need for Higher Salaries for Faculty Stressed in SIU Budget

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The high cost of today's living has hit the college professor just as hard as the automobile production worker, argues Southern Illinois University in a bid for faculty salary increases.

The University has asked the state legislature to boost Southern's operating appropriation by $10,425,513 for the next two years. Nearly 30 percent of this increase would go for faculty pay hikes.

A recent report cited by the University in its budget request shows that the buying power of college professors dropped 10 percent between 1929 and 1953. During the same period, the purchasing power of physicians rose 48 percent, automobile production workers 57 percent, and telephone operators 45 percent.

It used to be that colleges could pay professors low salaries because there was not much competition for their services. There were few places outside the academic world where the scholar could find employment. But things have changed, SIU officials say.

Several Resign

Several faculty members have resigned from Southern recently to take high-paying jobs in business, industry, and government agencies. The same losses are being felt by educational institutions all over the nation with the result that colleges are in salary competition with each other, as well as with private firms and government bureaus, for qualified instructors.

Prosperity and full production in the business world are strong inducements to teachers who see their students pulling down starting salaries higher than they have received after years in the profession. The bargaining position of the student is indicated by a recent report of the SIU Placement Service which says that each graduate of Southern in the 1955-56 academic year had an average of 35 job offers.

Against these odds, the University faces the dual problem of hanging on to present faculty members and attracting new instructors to the campus to alleviate crowded classes and teacher overloads brought about by the University's phenomenal enrollment gains of recent years.

Out of the total operating budget request of $25,264,139 for operations during the 1957-59 biennium, the University has earmarked $2,109,000 for adjustments in salary levels.

New Expenses

Other major increases sought by the University represent funds necessary to give individual students the same educational opportunities as they had in the 1951-53 biennium. During that period, enrollment temporarily leveled off, and the budget made fairly adequate provision for each student. The number of students on campus has doubled since that time, however, and the University figures it needs an additional $1,342,119 to put things back on an even keel.

Increased appropriations in the amount of $1,936,021 have been requested to strengthen and develop necessary educational programs that were started on a shoestring after Southern graduated from a teacher's college to a full-fledged university.

Southern also has asked the legislature for an addition of $2,004,281 to the University's operating budget to meet inevitable new expenses that will be cropping up during the 1957-59 biennium. Between 700 and 1000 additional students are expected to seek admittance to the University during each of the next two years. Southern will try to accept these students and catch up with a backlog of requests from area towns for extension and adult education offerings.

Also listed in the $10,586,713 increase the University is seeking are: $170,000 to put new buildings into operation; $309,000 for development of residence centers; $370,000 for library books, and $57,292 for scholarships.

Typhoid Clinics To Begin Soon In Local Schools

Typhoid clinics in the Harrisburg Public schools will soon begin. Active immunization against typhoid fever is accomplished by administering three doses of typhoid vaccine at regular intervals followed by boosters as directed. Local doctors will give the vaccine and the school nurse, Mrs. Ethel Mathias, will be in charge.

Parents are reminded that children, both school and preschool, who are not under the watch care of their private physician may share in this communicable disease control program. However, all school children must have written permission from their parent or guardian, to get either a booster dose (one shot) or the typhoid series (three doses). After the clinics have been completed the signed consent will be returned to the parent so that the home record of "shots" may be kept up to date.

A fee of 25c will again be charged, however, any may have his needed typhoid immunization on request by his parent either in writing or by telephone to his teacher.

Announcement will be made later for dates and places of clinics.

Amoma Class Meets With Mrs. Rosellen Garrett

The Amoma class of the Galatia Baptist church met Friday evening at the home of Mrs Rosellen Garrett.

Before the business meeting the class, as a group, attended the special prayer service being held at the church.

After returning to the home of Mrs. Garrett, she read the 20th chapter of Exodus as the devotion. A Biblical game was played with prizes being won by Mrs. Loma Allen.

Following a short business meeting refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Lillie Stevens, Mrs. Loma Allen, Mrs. Virginia Tate, Mrs. Jean Smith and son, Kenneth, Mrs. Madeline Large and daughter, June, and the hostess, Mrs. Rosellen Garrett and children, Cheryl and Stephen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Braden of Elgin spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Jess Heathman. They were on a return trip from a month's vacation in Florida.

Every year, weeds cost the South Dakota farmer enough to run the entire state for two years.

The first circus came to the United States in 1792.
